

Bendik Viking
Aurbakken Laland

Reactionative filtering, of: Informative energy.

VELOPT: Mirroring

Information consisting of units containing different values, anchored in unit regulations/settings. Text is an example of a unit setting with values. The setting's total, overall value of units; constitutes the setting symbol/information shell. This is developed through the information's deconstructed units/info substance deformation.

The process continues as a simple, natural reactionative forward processing. The units hit the setting shell's end walls. The end of the setting shell, represents: The informative setting symbol's end/the word's end, and the beginning of spacing.

The units/The fluid info substance is forced to turn, and are thereby processed in reverse through the regulation based setting symbol/the information's base substance footprint, and main pattern in the shell.

The setting symbol/shell acts as the value unit's pattern platform for processing. Some value units are standing skewed in the shell's unit pattern. The fluid info substance/the original unit values, are making a new footprint in the rule settings/the shell symbol.

The unit values are already swapped, compared to the original shell pattern. And the fluid info substance, seeps into new, constituted meaning. The value regulations has to recalculate every value, into new units, that fit the new pattern shell.

The value regulations original value of units, are being reconstructed both out of the forward processing, and the reversed processing. Then, they turn into: A mix of both forwards and backwards. The alternative: To the side. And two new opportunities are registered as settings. This constitutes: 3D.